Winning Streak: Las Vegas Trade Show Highlights

The mood was upbeat in Las Vegas this week as merchants from around the country and the world converged on the city to check out the latest spring men's wear trends.

The shows — MAGIC, Project, ENK, Capsule, MRket and PGA — were teeming with retailers who were filling order pads aggressively for next season. The quality and depth of the offering provided buyers myriad options for contemporary sportswear and modern tailored clothing along with a slew of accessories.

Color and artful destruction and fraying were prominent in J Brand's denim lineup, as were complementary designs like this slim cargo pant with a tapered silhouette.

Chambray shirts were omnipresent at the trade shows, but Arnold Zimberg took cues for his version from the Seventies label Lothar's St. Tropez, replicating the color and fabric.

As ballast to the vivid hues abounding in denim bottoms this season, Hudson colored a line of jeans in delicate pastel shades.
